65th CSC AWARDS PROGRAM

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Good evening and welcome to the 65th Annual Awards Gala of the Canadian Society of Cinematographers. What can be more rewarding than to realize those words that we have all been waiting to hear ... "We're Back!" ... and in person.

It is my hope and I am sure one shared by many, that we can now leave the past behind us and by that, I mean the pandemic, as we move forward with a renewed sense of purpose and resolve, even though we must tread cautiously as we embrace these new times.

The one constant in our Society is knowing that we can rely on our extremely talented cinematographers to provide us with award-winning, world class cinematography. Their exceptional work is also show-cased in the international forum of creativity and we applaud their formidable talent.

Congratulations to all of the CSC Awards honourees and nominees for pushing the boundaries of cinematography

The Society is moving ahead with a plethora of new and exciting initiatives and this year will be one like never before. There is no doubt that the CSC Brand will rise to new heights as it unfolds and presents all that will spell out the future of the Society.

However, this does not happen automatically and there are many whom we need to thank for the progress, which we continue to see unfold. The various committees that deal with all the many aspects of the CSC are managed by a growing team of volunteers and we are greatly indebted to them for their energy and the resulting success of their endeavours.

Our Corporate Sponsors, who deserve more than just a "thank you" are extremely integral to the success of the Society and will, without doubt prove more and more valuable as we proceed with all that is planned for the future of the CSC. Simply said, we could not manage without their generosity and they deserve our sincere gratitude.

Another extremely important component of the Society is the Administration led by Susan Saranchuk and her formidable team. Each year, I am truly astounded by their indefatigable spirit and the energy that they espouse. Personally speaking, I have no idea, especially under the very trying circumstance we have had to deal with, how you manage to do all that you set your minds to, but more importantly, all that you are able to accomplish. The value you bring to this Society is astounding and my personal gratitude to you all is beyond measure.

I also wish to thank the CSC Board of Directors and the various committees for the value that they too, bring to the Society. Their contributions, as they guide the Society is difficult to define, simply because of the huge amount of work involved in volunteering their services and offering their valuable time. We also extend our thanks to those members who offer their time and expertise to act as jurors for the Awards process.

To all the membership, as well as those who support the CSC in so many ways, my thanks to you for your time, energy and valued interest as the Society moves ahead on its path into the future.

As a Society, it is well known that the CSC is internationally accepted and well respected. This year will see major changes in the CSC and we look forward with anticipation to all that the Society has to offer as we move ahead, continuing to define the importance of its relationship in the ever-changing world of filmmaking.

George A Willis CSC, SASC President

Proud supporter of the CSC's "The Future is Calling" Campaign empowering emerging Cinematographers across the country.

As a sponsor of the 2022 Canadian Society of Cinematographers Awards, we're honoured to lend our support and pay tribute to the works of all our friends and colleagues being celebrated tonight.

Canada's vibrant film & television industry is growing.

THE FUTURE IS CALLING

it generated over $9 billion in production volume, contributed $12.2 billion to the GDP and created approximately 244,500 jobs. But barriers exist for marginalized communities to have access to training opportunities in the film and television industry.

The CSC has launched a $3.75 million campaign to shore up a national outreach, internship, mentorship, and education program targeted towards marginalized communities. With more than half that goal pledged and plans for new education and gathering space in Vancouver, we are creating a new pipeline of talent and working to build a more equitable industry.

The future is, indeed, calling.

REMARKS FROM THE AWARDS CHAIR - 2022

This evening has been a long time coming. We are gathering in a world that has changed in some fundamental ways. The ground under our feet has shifted and there are few among us that have not been touched by loss. When we are tested, the choice is to either shrink from the challenge or to rise up and meet it. This room is full of leaders; women and men who weren't afraid of the obstacles being dropped in their path. As cinematographers dedicated to their craft, they didn't lower their goals, they raised their game. As an industry, from producers through to production assistants, we have created a body of work to be proud of even in the best of times. Tonight, we are shining a light on the works that most captured our imaginations, blazed new trails, transported our spirits and shepherded us though the dark.

Tonight, we are celebrating Canadian cinematographers ranging from seasoned pros to those just finding their voice. All work was presented and voted for online by a full member jury located across the country and around the world. The CSC Awards presents 49 nominations across eleven categories. Every cinematographer should be considered a winner, because every juror will tell you how difficult it was to narrow down this world class field. The artistry on display is truly inspiring. Congratulations to everyone on your achievement.

As Awards Chair, my first Thank You will always go to Susan Saranchuk and her administrative team for doing the heavy lifting and keeping this grand endeavor on track. Thank You to the Full Member jurors who took the time to consider the 204 entries that we received this year. Thank you to the Awards Committee who helped us refine the process and focus this year's field. We also graciously thank our Award Presenters tonight. Thanks to the entire production crew, volunteers and to everyone involved in making tonight's Gala a reality. And as always, a huge Thank You to all the sponsors who continue to support CSC.

Welcome to the 65th Annual CSC Awards! It's a night for catching up with old friends, meeting new peers and celebrating excellence in Canadian cinematography.

Have a great evening!
